Whitesburg Tops Flemings, Ending 16-Game Win Streak

Branson Leads Jacket Scoring

By R. Percy Elkins

The Whitesburg Yellowjackets handed the Fleming-Neon Pirates their first defeat of the current basketball season here Tuesday night.

In a close-fought contest, the Yellowjackets won by a score of 60 to 57. They ended a 16-game win streak by Fleming.

Center Stanley Branson, who became eligible to play for Whitesburg only a few weeks ago, led the Jackets in scoring with 18 points. Fleming's Chancy was high scorer for the game with 21 points.

Whitesburg Coach Ernest Trosper said all five members of his first team "did a tremendous job" in the game against Fleming. Marty Blair scored 17 points for the Yellowjackets and Ercell Sturgill scored 10 points.

The Yellowjackets' record for the season—6 wins and 11 losses—is not a true indication of the character of the team, Trosper said. In the past four games, the Jackets have played as good ball as they did against Fleming, he said, but they have lost by small margins. The team lost to Hindman by one point in an overtime period and to Hazard by six points.

The Fleming Pirates defeated the Virgie Eagles 91 to 89 in a thriller at Virgie Tuesday night, Jan. 14.

Guard Ross Chaney sank 11 field goals and 13 free throws to pace the Pirates. The five-eight guard connected time and again from outside Virgie's zone defense to keep Fleming within striking distance.

Jenkins Edges Neighbor

In other fifty-third action the Jenkins Cavaliers dropped Henry Ed Wright's Letcher Eagles 70 to 61 at Jenkins Tuesday night.

Emory Smallwood duplicated his free throw mark set just four days previously by sinking 17 of 19 charity tosses. The five-eight senior has now connected on 94 of 118 attempts for an excellent percentage of .799. Emory was again high man for the Green Team with 21 points.

The Whitesburg Yellowjackets, behind the 27-point effort of Marty Blair, battled the Hazard Bulldogs for three quarters only to lose to the taller men by seven points, 69 to 62, at Hazard Tuesday night.

The Dunham Blue Devils proved Saturday night that they wouldn't be a pushover come tournament time, as they played the much taller Cavaliers off their feet. Guard Tom Ousley hit 18 points for the Blue Devils to lead all players. Smallwood got 12 for the Green Team. Russel Mullins dropped in 10, and Nick Dann registered eight. Motley collected eight for the Blue Devils and Smith got six.

By virtue of last week's victories Jenkins moved up from fifth to second in the District. The resurgent Cavaliers have now won five of their last six outings and now appear to be a team which can give anybody in the 14th region a run for their money.

I would like to call to the attention of fans the poor sportsmanship which has been displayed recently in the 53. Referees have also shown a assured interested persons that the county will try to find money to keep the county library and bookmobile program in operation.

Library May Get $550 Appropriation From Court

County Judge Arthur Dixon

County School Superintendent W. B. Hall, chairman of the library board, said Judge Dixon told him he hoped the county could find $550 to devote to the library program during the current fiscal year.

There is some question, however, as to whether the $550 will be enough. The state sends $850 yearly to the local program. But to get that state money, the county fiscal court must put up an equal amount. Officials are hopeful, however, that the state will be willing to count as a county contribution the $300 in rent charged to but not actually paid by the library. Unless the rent is counted, the $550 may not be enough.

The library crisis was discussed at a meeting of the Whitesburg Development Association, to which both Hall and Dixon were invited. Dixon was out of town and unable to attend the meeting.

The $550 is a substantial re-

Jurors Find No Violations Of Election Laws Here

The January grand jury reported this week that it had investigated "election irregularities and other suggested violations in the county" but could not uncover enough evidence to indict anyone in connection with them.

Rumors of irregularities in the November general election had been current in the county for several weeks.

The jury reported that it found buildings owned by the county in good shape but recommended some improvements in the plumbing in both the county jail and courthouse.

It called for immediate steps to change the system of draining water from the shower for prisoners. The shower facilities for prisoners are "very crude," the jury said. Water is carried off through a pipe stuck through the wall of the jail and falls on the ground below, creating an "unsanitary condition which needs to be remedied at once," the jurors commented.

The jury also said one new stool is needed in the men's restroom in the basement of the courthouse. Broken window

Concrete Plant To Open Here

Home Lumber Co., Whitesburg, has announced that it will install a ready mix concrete plant on Railroad Street in Whitesburg, at the rear of the old Whitesburg Wholesale building.

The plant will cost between $30,000 and $40,000, and will give employment to from four to eight men.

Albert E. Jones, the company's Whitesburg manager, said the firm hopes to have the plant installed and ready for service by March 1.

The January grand jury returned 49 indictments along with its final report Monday. Ten of the charges involve gambling or bootlegging.

Five of the 49 indictments are against one man, Arthur Jennings. Jennings is charged with possessing gambling implements (a game of craps) at Sawdust Junction, feloniously possessing burglarious tools, selling alcoholic beverages in dry territory, knowingly receiving stolen property, and delivery truck which was stolen in Louisville.

Other indictments involving whiskey traffic were returned against Jack Parrott, Johnny Jackson and George Hammonds. Parrott is accused of possessing alcoholic beverages for sale in dry territory. He is accused in the indictment for sell-

Brownies Give Dolls To Orphans

Little girls at the Open Door Children's Home, Cornettsville, had a happier Christmas as the result of some effort by members of Whitesburg's Brownie Scout troop.

Each girl donated one of her own dolls, and her mother dressed it in new clothes. The youngsters delivered the toys to the city park; making tray favors for hospital patients at Thanksgiving; caroling at the city fire department as the guests of Chief Remous Day. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Owens on Saturday.

Brownies are Girl Scouts who are seven, eight and nine years old. The aims of the Brownie movement are to teach the children to get along with other girls and to help other people.

Council Appoints $1-a-Month Collection Fee For Garbage Proposed

The city council has directed its attorney, Leroy Fields, to draw up an ordinance which would impose a monthly tax of $1 upon each household to pay for the collection of garbage.

The fee was proposed by Councilman Jack Cox as one means of meeting the city's need for additional revenue. The city at present provides free garbage collection.

Under the proposal, the $1 fee would be payable monthly, and would be collected by the city clerk. Failure to pay would result in a fine of $1 to $16.

The council directed Fields to see if a way can be worked out so that the fee can be collected along with regular charges for water and sewer service. Fields expressed doubt such an arrangement could be made because of some of the technical provisions involved in the bond issue floated to finance the sewage plant.

Jackson faces three counts. One indictment charges him with possessing alcoholic beverages for sale in dry territory. Two others charge him with selling alcoholic beverages in dry territory. In one, he is accused of selling one-half pint of Tom Moore whisky to Robert Dees; in the other, he is charged with selling a half pint of J. T. S. Brown whiskey to Samuel Simpson. Both offenses allegedly occurred at Sawdust Junction, located at the intersection of Ky. Highway 15 and Ky. Highway 7.

Hammonds is charged with selling alcoholic beverages in dry territory in connection with the sale of six cans of Schlitz beer to Jerry Combs at Sawdust Junction. Special Judge S. H. Rice of Irvine, who presided over the January term of court, told the grand jury in his charge to them that cutting down liquor traffic would in turn cut down the total amount of crime in the county.

Two charges of voluntary manslaughter were returned by the jury. Both are in connection

City Starts Procedure To Annex

The City of Whitesburg has taken a first step toward extending its city boundaries from the mouth of Sandlick to Pine Mountain Junction.

The proposed annexation would be expected to more or less double the area and population of Whitesburg.

So far, the annexation move is more of an idea than a reality. None of the exact details have been worked out.

The development came last Thursday, when the council voted unanimously to hire an engineer to survey the area and draw up a plan for annexation. City council members appeared agreed the annexation should extend from ridge line to ridge line, taking in all the houses and buildings from somewhere in the neighborhood of the new Sandlick Presbyterian Church to the junction.

City officials are hopeful that there will be a minimum of opposition to the move. They say that while residents of the area would have to pay city taxes once they were annexed, the savings on fire insurance payments would go a long way toward offsetting city taxes. In addition, residents of the area could expect to receive such city benefits as improved fire and police protection, garbage pickup, and other services provided by the city.

The motion to hire the engineer was made by Councilman Bill Blair, who commented "here we go again." He went on to recall that he had served on the council three years ago and made the same motion then. He and other members of that council were then defeated for re-election.

Blair commented that he is determined to go ahead and do what he thinks is best for the city, even if he gets thrown out of office again two years from now. Other councilmen seemed to agree.

Salaries Raised

The Whitesburg city council has voted pay increases for its police and firemen.

The pay of Fire Chief Remous Day was increased from $250 to $300 monthly and that of his wife from $40 to $75 monthly.

Police Chief Burl Combs and patrolmen Eddie Howard and Joe Pack each received raises of $25 monthly. Combs will receive $300, Howard $275 and Pack $250.

Mayor Arthur Banks commented that "I think we've got a good bunch of men, and they'll do what you tell them."

In another action, the council employed Bed Day as city assessor, and agreed to study possibility of bringing all city employees under the federal social security program.

WILL WE LOSE OUR LIBRARY?

Residents of Letcher County often take pride in believing that they are at least a step ahead of their Eastern Kentucky neighbors in many of the things that go to make a community a worthwhile place in which to live. The belief often is founded on fact. In per capita income and in the over-all level of education, Letcher county holds an edge over its neighbors.

Another thing we have had to take pride in has been our county library and its bookmobile program. Although it is inadequate in many respects, the library nevertheless has been able to perform a very real service to the young people of our county. Four thousand times last month, someone looking for knowledge or entertainment borrowed a book from the library and its bookmobiles.

Now the library program is about to fall on its face. It has been financed through a small appropriation from the fiscal court, a grant from the state and a grant from the county school board.

The present fiscal court has not seen its way clear to granting funds for continued operation of the program. The amount of county money involved is small, only 12 hundred dollars. But, without that appropriation of county tax dollars, there will be no state funds. The state won't send its tax dollars to support our local library unless we are willing to furnish tax dollars of our own.

We recognize that dollars are scarce, and that the fiscal court has at least 10 demands for every dollar it has available. But the county has too much to lose in the bookmobile program not to make every attempt to find the needed dollars.

At the very time when the need for a more adequate school system is being demonstrated through Russian scientific triumphs, Letcher county is about to take a tremendous step backward educationally. The closing down of public libraries is scarcely the answer to our great need for improved education.

We suspect that the fiscal court would not have taken funds from the library if it had been convinced there was a public demand and public support for the program. It is up to the people of the county to demonstrate to the court members that they are wrong. Surely the various civic clubs and PTA's throughout the county will not sit idly by while the county loses one of its most valuable assets. Or will they?

A WISE DECISION

We congratulate Letcher Fiscal Court for its decision to give social security protection and benefits to county officers and employees. Cost to the county will be small, but the return in terms of security and peace of mind for those affected will be beyond measure.

The city council of Whitesburg has indicated that it will follow the county's example. We hope they do. We see no reason why clerks and other employees of the two governments should be denied the retirement benefits that long have been standard in private business.

"THE CHURCH ORGANIZES FOR SERVICE"
January 26, 1958
1 Timothy 3:10

The church is made up of individual Christians. Each Christian is as important in the Kingdom of God and in the plan of salvation as the Kingdom itself. "He that believeth on me, from within him shall flow rivers of living water." The River of the Water of Life flows from beneath the Throne of God. Calvary was for each individual member of the City of God as well as for the Redeemed of Israel which is an innumerable multitude which no man can number. So the Kingdom of God is within you and the Church is the invisible congregation of true believers.

The character of each Christian is the same, patterned after the Master Pattern, the character of Jesus Christ who is known, though we often so judge, by an individual member and often the Church member.

The importance of the individual member is further brought out by the great teaching in the Bible of the "Priesthood of all believers." John writes in the Book of the Revelation: "He hath made us to be Priests." Again the Bible tells us of a "nation of priests." Finally, therefore, the Church is no more than the sum total of a true man of God and ser-

BABSON DISCUSSES GRAVITY AND THE MARKETS

Babson Park, Mass., Jan. 23. For some years I have been contributing large sums to the Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, N. H. We have been trying to learn what gravity is,—whether it can be controlled. Gravity influences everything from the lightest feather to the heaviest metal. Thus far, no INSULATOR has been found for gravity. To hold anything up against the force of gravity requires force.

Gravity May Be A Spirit
Some believe that everything—including thoughts, prices, morals, ambition, and faith,—are being constantly pulled down by gravity. I surely believe that such gravity has a constant downward pull on the stock market. As constant force is needed to keep up an airplane, kite, or balloon, so constant buying is needed to keep up prices. Force can raise prices as it can raise a load in an elevator. Furthermore, prices will fall as soon as this force is removed. Sir Isaac Newton's Law of Gravitation will be found to apply to the actions of the stock market. They kept declining until sup-lines," "Dow Theories," and various statistical formulas to forecast markets; but I believe they are all helpless to keep stocks up, or make them rise, except as they increase buying. By the law of gravitation, prices of all kinds, including real estate, bonds, and interest rates will fall unless supported. Thus the successful investor usually need only wait until the artificial supports are removed and he can then get stocks at his own price. This is why General Electric, General Motors, and other good stocks sold for only a few dollars per share in 1932. They kept declining until supvant of God.

The office of bishop is designed principally for a man who will rule spiritually and morally in the Church. The word itself, "episcopos," means a visiting or a visitation of the mercy or of the judgment of God. The bishop, or elder, as he is called in other passages of scripture, is a spiritual leader in the church whose life witnesses to the true character of the Christian faith. He is to be the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behavior, given to hospitality, apt to teach; not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous; one who rules his own house, not a novice, and must be of good report. He must be, in other words, a man who walks like the Book talks. His life must be patterned by the Word of God.

Finally the deacon. This of-port came. This will again repeat itself.

Outlook for World War III

Newton's Law of Gravitation will determine the future of international affairs. Conditions will continue to become worse until some nation falls. This need not be Russia. This fall will shorten the cold war, and either hasten peace or World War III. What Secretary Dulles, or Churchill, or the Pope may say has very little bearing. What nation will be first to fall we do not now know, any more than we now know which of our big corporations will be the first one from which support is withdrawn.

The same fact applies to our national politics. Every political party in power, remains in power until the public withdraws support. Then, by Newton's Law, it falls whether its principles are right or wrong.

As the seed corn naturally falls to the ground so does everything else,—good and bad. England and France won World War II because of the support of the U. S. The outcome of World War III, if it comes, will likewise depend upon the support of our present allies.

Gravitation of Morals

When I was a boy in church and Sunday School, I was seriously taught about a "personal devil" who was continually pulling me down morally. Now this "personal devil" has gone out of fashion in most modern thinking; but we are constantly being pulled down morally nevertheless. One great trouble with our nation today is that this "personal devil" is no longer popular and few preachers have given us anything worthwhile in its place. They should frankly tell us that "gravitation" is constantly pulling us down MORALLY as it is pulling us down PHYSICALLY. It finally pulls us into the grave.

All the above means that there is no ultimate protection in any stocks, bonds, mortgages, real estate, or anything else, but constant supervision.

As I sit here at the typewriter this morning it is difficult for me to keep from watching those big flakes of snow coming down. However, it reminds me of the trouble I have with my clothes clinging to me in this kind of weather. And luckily some new information has just come in on how to control this static. In cold dry weather, blouses, slips and dresses made of the newer manmade fibers have a tendency to cling to the body, due to what is commonly called static. To reduce this amount of a liquid detergent, wash and rinse the garment in the usual manner, then in the final rinse water add a small amount of a liquid detergent, fabric softener, or a special anti-static agent, following directions on the container.

Liquid detergents and fabric softeners can be bought in most food or grocery stores, and the antistatic agents at notion counters in drug or department stores.

Farm and Home Week
January 28 to 31 are the dates for the Annual Farm and Home Week convention in Lexington. Mrs. Bill Combs, County Vice-President of the Homemakers organization plans to officially represent Letcher County, but others who can attend are urged to take in this event.

"How Adequate Is Your Family's Diet?" is the discussion for one afternoon. Also during the week there will be a tea for all attending. President and Mrs. Dickey as host and hostess.

The Letcher County 4-H Club Council will receive a plaque for being judged the best in this District. The State Homemakers Chorus will perform one evening, and Miss Myrtle Weldon, World Traveler, will show colored slides taken on her "Around the World Tour." Did You Know?

Buying Towels

Stacks of pretty soft bath towels at reduced prices during January white sales are tempting to almost any thrifty housewife, but don't make your selection on price alone. Consider also the weight, length of pile, the weave, border and color.

Compare the weight by feeling several towels, then choose one of medium weight. Towels with a thick heavy pile are hard for children to handle, and are also harder to keep clean. Loops that are about one-fourth inch long are satisfactory. Longer loops may pull out.

Examine the basic weave of the towel to see whether it is close and tight or loose and open. A tight, close weave will keep the loops firmly in place. Hold the towel up to the light to see that the light comes through evenly, rather than in uneven spots.

A study of the selvages is worthwhile. A closely woven selvage wears best; however hems that are stitched with close even stitches and with corners back-stitched will give service.

Woven borders in towels are pretty, but will shrink more than the towels if they are dried in dryers.

Colored towels should be fast color, so they will be pretty even after repeated washings.

Dry-Platform Feeding Helps Gain Rates, Feed Efficiency

Lexington — Feeding steers on a concrete platform rather than letting them stand in mud to feed increased daily gain 35 per cent and feed efficiency 25 per cent.

So says F. H. Baker, Kentucky Experiment Station nutritionist who was reporting on a Purdue experiment.

Baker, noting that two tests were run, one in a dry summer and one during a wet summer said the platform is an apron of concrete 16 feet wide in front of the feeding trough.

Here are the figures on the steers (wet season):

Initial weight, "apron-lot" steers, 840 pounds, compared to 840 pounds for the "mud-lot" steers; final weights, apron-lot 925 pounds, the mud-lot, 902 pounds (a difference of 33 pounds in favor of the apron-lot); total gain per steer, apron lot, 95 pounds, the mud-lot, 62 pounds (a gain of 33 pounds in favor of the apron-lot); average daily gain, apron lot, 0.65 pounds, the mud-lot, 0.55 pounds (a difference of 0.30 pounds daily in favor of the apron-lot).

Daily feed consumption apron-lot, 86.5 pounds, the mud-lot, 75.9 pounds (a difference of 10.6 pounds); feed per pound of gain, 102.2 pounds for the apron-lot, 137.2 pounds for the mud-lot (a difference of 35 pounds in favor of the apron lot).

Baker said, however, that in the dry summer there was no advantage noted in feeding the steers on the concrete apron.

Planning Group Seeks New Laws

Frankfort — The Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission has adopted a resolution favoring amendment of existing state planning statutes to permit third to sixth class cities to join with their counties in forming joint planning and zoning commissions.

The Commission took the action during a meeting at West Liberty in Morgan County. At present, only first and second class cities may join with their counties to form such joint agencies.

The Commission also urged by resolution the "early enactment" by Congress of the "Omnibus Rivers and Harbors Bill" and exhibited special interest in a section which would permit the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers to construct water storage facilities for augmentation of low-flow streams. Such facilities would be constructed without reference to a cost benefits are widely diffused.

Commission Chairman B. F. Reed, Drift, said impoundments of this type, if built in Eastern Kentucky, would help provide sufficient water for industrial purposes and for municipal water systems.

The Commission plans to hold its next meeting at Ashland Feb. 3.

Sewing Tips To Give Professional Look

Lexington, Ky. — Miss Dorothy Threlkeld, Extension specialist in clothing at the University of Kentucky, says that a small mis-step in sewing may announce the made-at-home garment.

For example, in making collars and cuffs on a garment of heavy cotton, linen or some wools, seams will be thick and bulky and a shiny outline often results after pressing.

To avoid the difficulty, Miss Threlkeld suggests "grading" heavy seams, that is, trimming away the layers of material to different widths before turning the garment to the right side for final pressing.

Seam corners of collars and cuffs should also be cut off before the article is turned to avoid bulkiness, care being taken not to cut the stitching.

Fullness of set-in sleeves may be eased in by running two rows of machine stitching (8 to 10 stitches to the inch) around the sleeve cap, the first stitching on the seam line, the second, a fourth-inch toward the cut edge. When a thread in each row of stitching is pulled, fitting the sleeve cap to the arm hole, there will be no extra fullness.

Bulkiness in seams of round ed collars may also be avoided says Miss Threlkeld, by snipping out small triangles in the outer-edge seam before the collar is turned to the right side.

When a collar is attached to a garment, the stitched seam should be clipped every 2 inches and spread, so there will be no drawing or pulling of the completed neckline.

The old business always comes first so we started with the picnic table located on Pine Mountain, one of our club projects, which is to be repaired. Then Jack Little was appointed as "Acting State Director" for our district and he will attend the state meeting, accompanied by our president, Hoover Dawshere, on the 25th of this month.

Audit Required Of Co. Records

Frankfort — State Auditor Mary Louise Foust recently sent reminders to outgoing county officials explaining the necessity of keeping intact office records until an audit could be made.

"Any bank account in which receipts of the office have been deposited," she said, "should be considered as escrow funds until after an audit and the establishment of proper title to the monies determined."

In offices where the constitutional maximum salary of $7,200 has been reached, the entire bank balance may be county funds, she added.

Clerks should make an inventory of accounts receivable so their successors will know what they are collecting for another, Miss Foust explained.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

For an adequate amount of vitamin C in your diet during the winter months include extra servings of foods that are rich in vitamin C. The advice comes from Miss Elizabeth Helton, UK Extension foods specialist, who explains that this vitamin actually helps hold the cells of the body together, like cement between bricks. A lack of it may show up in any place in the body—the skin, teeth, bones, muscles, blood vessels or blood.

It is important to have a daily supply of this nutrient, as the body can store only very small amounts. It is easily destroyed in cooking, although much of it is preserved in modern processing.

Important sources of vitamin C (also called ascorbic acid) are all citrus fruits, tomatoes, strawberries, pineapple, raw cabbage, broccoli, kale, turnip and mustard greens, Irish and sweet potatoes and green pepper.

UK Fraternities Lead the Nation

University of Kentucky fraternities have led fraternities at state universities throughout the nation in scholarship four times in the past five years, according to a report released to day by UK Dean of Men L.

L. Martin.

The report, prepared by College Fraternity Scholarship Processing, Atlanta, Ga., shows a big jump in fraternity scholastic standing at UK during that period, with the institution failing to take first place only in 1953-54, when it placed second. Dean Martin said the scholarship improvement program "came as a direct result of action by the University of faculty through a regulation passed in 1952 that fraternities must maintain an average of or above the all-men's average for the University in order to maintain good standing on the campus."

Soil Conservation

On Friday, Jan. 10, at 9:30 a.m., the Letcher County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors met in the district office for their regular monthly meeting.

While the routine matters were taken care of, a report on the Soil Conservation essay contest was given.

Tree planting time is now at hand and the following farmers have ordered approximately 60,000 trees recently:

Sam Sergent, Democrat, Ky.; Eugene Howard, Neon; E. C. Blair, Whitesburg; Jaycee Club Whitesburg; Cecil Caudill, Delmar Kincer, Ben Franklin, Elmer Adams, Troy Hall, Henry Goins, John Tolliver, W. M. Franklin, George Webb, Bill Sergent, J. W. Taylor, Coy Wright, David Caudill, Clifton Hall, Arlie Isom, Watson Collins, Monroe Fields, Roy Gillie, Cleave Collins, Joe Boggs, Critt Gentrey and W. M. Gibson of Isom.

You farmers who plan to set trees should order them in the very near future.

Stuart Robinson School To Do Reforestation

Harold Wright, Superintendent of Stuart Robinson School, has decided to change the cover of the hills of Stuart Robinson School from one consisting of a low grade hardwood to a more desirable, productive and better adapted specie, the green pine.

He plans to sell this material in 1958 in the form of mining props and for other uses. The man who plans to buy the timber will remove the low grade material for props, saw timber for lumber, and will saw some lumber purely for the use of the school.

Beginning in 1958, after the timber has been removed, the school will interplant openings and replant with some more adaptable specie of tree. By doing this, quality and production of this stand of timber will be greatly increased.

Two years ago the school planted 8,000 trees in cooperation with the Letcher County Soil Conservation District and they are living and growing well.

There are many thousands of acres of land in Letcher County which have a stand of timber similar to this which could, and should, (with a little advertising) be sold off and then be replanted with a more productive species. Do not abandon a piece of land just because it is covered with low grade timber, but take the same course of action that Wright plans: get a sale for it; replant and improve. It is high time that more people in Letcher County were taking the same course of action as Wright and transforming more of these old hills from tax liabilities to financial assets.

Mr. Wright says that the gold is on these hills and not under them, and that money does grow on trees in this case. He feels that he can keep the soil where it belongs, and out of the rivers where it doesn't belong, by utilizing the conservation agent, the tree.

As a conservationist and former Soil Conservation Service employee, Wright knows that to conserve our soil we must work with and not against nature. As a result, he is cooperating with his Soil Conservation District by working on soil conservation plan and using each and every acre within its capabilities thereby receiving the maximum amount of soil conservation and erosion control.

This reforestation will be part of this conservation plan also: Cover cropping, rotation of crop land, grasses on erodible lands, contour cropping and conservation methods of water disposal where a problem is existent.

Assistance on working on this plan is available to Stuart Robinson School or any other farmer in the Letcher County Soil Conservation District, and is free of charge.

Mr. Wright has a forward energetic and enthusiastic approach to the problem and promises to be an asset to our home county.

Industrial Boom Is Traceable To Branch Plants

Frankfort — Establishment of branch plants in Kentucky by out-of-state manufacturers—not relocation of industries here by such companies—has accounted for the bulk of the state's industrial growth in the past three years.

This importance of branch plant operation in Kentucky's economic picture was revealed in a survey conducted by the Department of Economic Development.

The survey showed 15 percent of manufacturing employment by plants announced since 1955 will be traceable to branch operations. Several of these are under construction. The balance of new-plant jobs will result from installations erected by Kentucky-domiciled firms. The survey failed to disclose any instance where an out-of-state firm had closed up elsewhere and moved all operations to Kentucky.

According to the survey, 55 branch plants, to employ 13,300 persons, have been established in the three-year period. Plant investment will top $125,000,000. In the same period, 119 new plants—started by Kentucky operators and employing 4,375—were constructed at a cost of $26,900,000.

"True industrial migration"—actual moving of facilities from one state to another—also has not played any considerable part in Kentucky's overall industrial boom which began shortly after World War II, the survey stated.

U. S. farm population is now 13 per cent of the total population.

8,194 Children Given Treatment By State Agency

Frankfort — The Kentucky Crippled Children Commission treated 8,194 handicapped children and conducted 518 clinics in the State during the two-year period from July 1, 1955 to June 30, 1957.

Director Marian Williamson made the statement in a biennial report to Gov. A. B. Chandler.

During the period, the director said, 91 per cent of all funds expended was for the care and treatment of handicapped children, with only 9 per cent spent for administration.

The Crippled Children Commission is the official state agency responsible for the care and medical treatment of handicapped children under the age of 21, whose parents are financially unable to provide such care.

Thirty-one children participated in a six-weeks speech workshop conducted by the commission during the summer of '56, with 12,547 speech therapy treatments given to patients during the biennium, the report shows.

Speech centers were opened at Covington, Lexington and Louisville. Services of a speech therapist were used at the West Kentucky Center for handicapped children at Paducah.

Other divisions of the Commission are: Orthopedic and Pediatric nursing; Medical-Social service; Physical Therapy; Occupational Therapy; Psychological testing and consultation; finance and personnel and statistical and administration.

The bedroom is the most dangerous room in the home, according to the National Safety Council.

U. S. farmers' income in 1956 was 10.5 billion dollars of the total U. S. income of 275 billion.

Check Equipment To Avoid Corrosion

With the arrival of the first seed catalog comes a reminder that it may not be too late to give the neglected garden equipment the care it was denied.

The suggestion comes from garden specialists of the UK Extension Service, who say that fertilizer or insecticide left in contact with metal is likely to corrode it during the winter.

Garden fertilizer attracts moisture and will cause the spreader to rust out quickly hence the fertilizer should be washed off and the metal dried and covered with oil.

Dried mud also should be removed from tools, the rusty spots rubbed with steel wool, then coated with oil.

Many a sprayer has been ruined by corrosion in one winter when a small amount of insecticide has been left standing in it. Check both sprayers and dusters to see that they are empty, clean and dry.

ROTARY BULLETIN

Next Meeting—Tuesday, Jan. 21.

Program—Steve. Subject—Four Way Test.

Guests—Arch Seamon, Brad Dixon, J. A. Marlowe, M. K. Marlowe and John Howard.

Candidates for goosekeeper: Coy, Albert, Jeff, Clel and Huston.

Lee gave us a Rotary Information talk last week which was very informative and good for all of us. He says the Bulletin is "showing some improvement" which we are glad to find out. At least when it is as bad as it can be it cannot get any worse which is some consolation. Regarding the Bulletin our members need to realize it is not a one man show and if you have any news or item of interest pass it on. It is the official Club bulletin and merits the active support of all members. It is not an easy task to keep it interesting and informative.

The orator would say—"When in the course of human events in this great and glorious country of ours it becomes both necessary and proper to ascertain the quantity resulting from the addition of the second digit to the numeral two I can state without fear of successful contradiction the inevitable result will be "four." What would you say?

Understand there is considerable argument over the "Jackpot" on the recent fishing trip. Maybe our auditing committee should look into it.

Steve has the program next week on the Four Way Test. We all know Steve always has a good program for us. Let's all be there.

Chemical Plants Show Increase

Frankfort — Kentucky's continuing to get a sizeable share of the mushrooming growth of the chemical industry, and prospects are "good" for an acceleration of this trend, a state agency has reported.

The Department of Economic Development said 13 new chemical plants, costing more than $35 million dollars, were planned or began production in Kentucky during 1957. This is more than one-quarter the total outlay invested in chemical producing facilities in the State for the nine-year period, 1947 to 1956, the agency said.

The increase in workers, the agency added, will boost total employment in Kentucky's chemical industry to just under 12,000, almost triple what it was 10 years ago.

The State's employment-ranking in the chemical field in the past decade has jumped from 27th to 21st nationally and from 8th to 6th in the 11-state Southeast, said the department.

Rosedale, formerly Johnson's Inn, is shown on Filson's first map of Kentucky, published in 1784, as being on the main road between Lexington and Limestone town (now Maysville). Tradition relates as many as 50 covered wagons stood in the yards here at one time.
